

AT THE THEATERS

Hall.

"The Gilded Lily" featuring Mae Murray is the attraction offered by the Hall Theater tonight and tomorrow. Miss Murray is seen as a dancer in a private club on Broadway, a selfish woman taking all she can from men and giving nothing in return except encouragement. A man from the country is introduced by her and, proposing marriage, is accepted. It is then that one sees that the dancer whose name is Lily has been truly called "gilded" because underneath her outside brilliancy is the soul who craves a quiet home. The dancer breathes the man who has proposed to her was in love only with her artificiality. The rest of the story tells of Lily's attempt to win back the man she has lost by revealing her true self.

We Want the Legion Convention

From 1776 to World War
American Soldiers Have Laid Down
Their Lives for the Same High Ideals of Justice and Right.
Will you help erect a memorial to the memory of those who fell—where their ideals may be forever perpetuated in the hearts of coming generations of University students?
This memorial will not only be a monument to their memory but it will be just what THEY would wish it to be—a useful, vital throbbing center of a greater University, a common meeting ground for students from every School and College, a mecca around which will be woven the heart strings of both those who have the memory of loved ones commemorated in it and those who as students partake of the benefits which it will bring.
Columbia people are benefitted by every improvement to the University.
The University students have done their part. What will you do?
Solicitors are canvassing the people but they may not be able to see everyone. Why wait for a solicitor? Why not do your duty today by dropping in at the Commercial Club rooms and leaving your subscription? There will be a representative of the Memorial Committee at the Commercial Club rooms every day until the campaign ends.
